

The Company

Relags was founded in 1985 and operates since then in the outdoor, camping and sportsbranche as a distributor, manufacturer and service company. The idea, to offer hardware to the outdoor shops, expedition outfitters, sporting and camping stores, has remained until today. The offer, however, adjusts annually to the changing needs of our time and has – also like the number of customers - grown steadily. So today we serve more than 1,200 customers in Europe with over 4,000 items.

But not only the sale is our profession, but also the smooth running of the after-sales-services. We support the dealers with photo material, data and text for their catalog production, we do necessary repairs, manage the complaint process to consider proposals for improvement. We are available for consulting and ready to present a web presentation with information for consumers about our products, with shop addresses for the "live experience" or with the option of mail order shopping.

Services for the retail

We see ourselves as service company and offer in this position a program, which is fed from many sources around the world. The buyer can collect from our offer a big range and requires only one supplier for more than 4,000 items of various kinds. Our well-filled stock enables rapid processing and so the local retailer can offer quick without an own large warehouse. Service, advice and warranty support are obvious.

Producer for Outdoor Equipment

Gear, we can not otherwise obtain or not in the right quality, we produce under our direction. All the Relags kitchen sets, for example, also the Multi-Pots and much more. We also pack items such as National Molding accessories for a better presentation at the store, which substantially increased its sales and create a more homogeneous picture in the shop.

Wholesale

We are specialized in the picking of small quantities and the distribution of a wide range of many "small" orders. This know-how, we also make available to other companies. So, the buyers have a big range of different items, to choose from and can efficiently order - the complete hardware from one source. Only one order, one delivery, one invoice.

Interested?

Specialists and retailers, please contact us with your business registration and a brief description of your business. We look forward to serving you. For special requests or products in large quantities, please, contact us. We make you an individual offer.

We are happy to give consumers information about the location of your nearest store.

Or get information on products and merchants directly from this site.

